

Brain Games Exercises

To my fellow isolationists and U3A members

It is my delight to provide you all with some mental gymnastics during our time apart.

Please enjoy the three sets provided for this week. (Answers next week along with some more work.)

Remember: The important thing with Brain Games is that you tried and not how many you got right. It is ok to have a different answer to the one given - this often does not mean that you are not right. It then becomes a point of discussion. And so more brain exercise.

Sometimes there are typos and duplications in the material supplied. I ask in advance for you to please overlook these.

Have fun, enjoy and I'll be back next week. Cheers Janice Brooks (10 April 2020)
