

U3A Perth Regional Highlights

▶ Living & Working in Papua New Guinea with Bevan Sharp

Bevan originally travelled to PNG as a Volunteer Consultant, which evolved into a permanent position managing a locally owned company with ten businesses and 130 employees. Bevan survived tribal attacks, death threats, being punched unconscious but turned the company from disaster into a financial and social success. Listen to his trials and tribulations in navigating the mores of PNG.

▶ A history of Perth and W.A. from First Gold Rush onwards with Richard Offen

Richard has wide experience of heritage matters around the world. In 2017, after twelve years in the post of Executive Director of Heritage Perth, Richard retired, but during that period gained great popularity as a lecturer and broadcaster on both radio and television. He is probably best known in Perth for his Monday morning history spot on the 720 ABC Breakfast Show. In retirement, Richard is currently commissioned to write two books, continues his radio broadcasting and offers heritage consultancy services to organisations around the State and beyond.

▶ Leisure Planning with Andrew Kikeros

Andrew has a Bachelor of Applied Science (Leisure) and being self employed for the majority of his working life has a diversity of experience in different industries. He has always been interested in the relationship between paid work and other parts of life. This influenced him to take on leisure studies and immerse himself in the work, time and leisure conundrum. His current role includes coaching older adults in the transformation from work to retirement and in helping people have better lives through leisure.
